The Devil Incarnate

Death Angel

Master of disguise move unseen
Shadow on the night silent hunter
Appetite aroused by the smell of your fear
Driven by desire instinct and hungerAnd I will survive while you die
I will survive while you die
And I will survive while you die
I will survive while you dieIn your slow demise mercy denied
Bitter is the taste of your last breath
Choking on a bite from the apple of eden
Victim of my lies deceit and betrayalAnd I will survive while you die
I will survive while you die
And I will survive while you die
I will survive while you dieShed my skin steal your soul
Again and again from the birth of timeAnd I will survive while you die
I will survive while you die
And I will survive while you die
I will survive while you dieShed my skin steal your soul
Again and again from the birth of timeSteal your soul shed my skin
Over and over until the end of timeLook into the eyes of fate
Destiny you can't escape
Precious life that you now chase
Slips away as you're erasedSeasons come and seasons go
What will come you'll never know
Future is a mystery
For this lock there is no keySo you pray but I say it's too lateRunning from the hands of doom
Crawling back into the womb
Look of horror on your face
Feeble human wasting spaceTime has come to say goodbye
And a life lived in a lie
Your tomorrow is now gone
The devil incarnate lives onSo you pray but I say it's too late
