Touch and Go (2002 Remastered Version)

Stiff Little Fingers

Looking back it's funny that we never lied
That night we met when we were both alone
We knew at once that what we'd want was just that night
Knew it couldn't be forever 'cause we each told of another
And then found something all our ownWe both agreed, we felt the need that goes skin deep
We said up front, that's all we'd want and so
We took the love that felt so good and had to be
Just a case of touch and goWhen we'd got that usual block out of the way
We both relaxed, sat back and felt so sure
Saw eye to eye and looked each other in the face
Hours we talked with warmth and laughter
And we still could talk more after in the dark up on the seventh floorWe both agreed, we felt the need that goes skin deep
We said up front, that's all we'd want and so
We took the love that felt so good and had to be
Just a case of touch and goSome might joke, I came and went, and snigger she's a whore
But there's two people know it meant much moreLooking back was not allowed that morning so
We each stuck by what we'd said
Rose and left without regret
But for a moment it was touch and goWe both agreed, we felt the need to touch and go
But oh, you know, it was touch and go
