Meantime

Matt Stell

Smoke in the light
Can't hide your beauty
Body swayin' to that sweet soul song
A friend came over
Just doin' her duty
Dancin' with me baby
Where you belong
Won't you tell her its ok
Cause you know this night
Shouldn't end this way

If you want
I'll be the shoulder you cry on
I can tell you that everything's fine
And I'll be your friend
When you need somebody
I'll be your lover in the meantime

These kind of evenings don't happen too often
Some might even take this night as a sign
What would it take
For your heart to soften
Won't you give in
Let your lips touch mine
Come on closer for another dance
Let your love light shine baby
And take a chance, Well

If you want
I'll be the shoulder you cry on
I'll tell you that everything's fine
I'll be your friend when you need somebody
I'll be your lover in the meantime

If you want
I'll be the shoulder you cry on
I'll be the one to tell you everything's fine
And I'll be your friend when you need somebody
Or I'll be your lover in the meantime
Yes, I'll be your lover in the mean time
