Steven

Tellusalie

Goodbye
Goodbye
Goodbye
November 10th, a cold dark night
You could feel that something wasn't right
That night many hearts did cry
When we learned we had to say goodbye
All embraced under one common song
The body is dead but life lives on
All embraced under one common song
The body is dead but life lives on
Goodbye, Steven
Goodbye, you friend
You were so young
You were so young
Goodbye, Steven
Goodbye, you friend
You were so young
The cars lined the streets
As it was coming to an end
The sun shined so brightly
The day we buried our friend
All embraced under one common song
The body is dead but life lives on
All embraced under one common song
The body is dead but life lives on
Goodbye, Steven
Goodbye, you friend
You were so young
You were so young
Goodbye, Steven
Goodbye, you friend
You were so young
You were so young
Losing in the fall, lost innocence came down
An 18 year old boy was buried in the ground
A family's broken hearts, a friend's streaming tears
The light lost in death, the living's growing fears
Of eternal darkness or is it spiritual light

To come with terms with death on the darkest night
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
November 10th, a cold dark night
You could feel that something wasn't right
That night many hearts did cry
When we learned we had to say goodbye
