Patty McBride

Bare Jr.

PATTY McBRIDE
Precious Patty McBride had nothin` to hide
Her magical songs just poured out from inside
For one to see her is for one to love her
And to go to ya`ll`s friends and sayShe`s a star and she shines
Lord knows why - godlike and divine
For we all want to love her
And we all want to be near her
As if you too could shineLately her press has been a mess
They tell of bad taxes, drug habits and wine
Did you hear her own mother would not even love her
Yet her fans write letters that sayOh, you`re a star and you shine
Lord knows why - godlike and divine
For we all want to love her
And we all want to be near her
As if we too could shineBack in Tennessee her old boyfriend reads
About her new lover toned, tanned and perfect teeth
Well, that old boyfriends mother says "Hey, how`s Pat"
With shame he turns to sayOh momma, she`s a star and she shines
Lord knows why - godlike and divine
For I wanted to love her
And I wanted to be near her
As if I too could shine

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/