

Fragments (feat. Lukas Magyar & Marc Holcomb)

Jason Richardson

Call it what you will
Mistakes were made while caught up in our own lives
Left unanswered
This broken trust will only wither away
Swept from under us
Only a fragment remains
A memory we've lost
Just a simple though
Swept from under us
Only a fragment remains
A memory we've lost
Swept from under us
I've cut through you
This broken trust has cut through you
I've cut through you the same way broken glass cuts through the surface
Leaving only this wound to heal
Forgive me
'Cause only a fragment remains
I've cut through you just like broken glass
I am certain that things will never be the same
In this current state nothing will heal
There are no words to explain just how wrong we both have been
So we'll go our separate ways
We'll go our separate ways
I've cut through you the same way broken glass cuts through the surface
Leaving only this wound to heal
Forgive me
'Cause only a fragment remains
I've cut through you just like broken glass
I've cut through you
This broken trust has cut through you
