She Came On

Super Deluxe

She came on like a storm from the blind side of a memory
Soft and warm left me sea sick on the shore
She believed she could prove it was her world that I needed
But I left her for someone I wanted moreAlways using clever words to hide the truth
Communicating in the ignorance of youth
Still I believe that my delusions are realities within confusion
I accept the consequences for my lack of innocenceShe was wrong sunshine bright flaunting careless situations
Guarded wit' always answering just because Wild cloche I'm discreet waking up from perfect dreaming
When I realized I want what never wasAlways using clever words to hide the truth (Words to hide the truth)
Communicating in the ignorance of youth
Still I believe that my delusions are realities within confusion
I accept the consequences for my lack of innocenceWhy do I just refuse to disagree with what I believe
I found myself wandering aimlessly
Calling it freedom

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/