We Crossed Our Hearts

Ray Price

I thought that a love that was true'd never die
That nothing could keep us apart
We promised to ever be faithful and true
We promised and we crossed our heartsWe crossed our hearts, it was sealed with a kiss
And vowed that we never would part
The seal it was broken by somebody else
And you must have uncrossed your heartWhat good is a promise that's broken so true
Or castles that's built in the sky
What good are the vows that you made me that day
When you crossed your heart with a lieYou played careless hands on the strings of my heart
And I guess you thought you were smart
For then you deceived me for somebody else
So you must have uncrossed your heart
