

That's the Thing About a Memory

Tracy Byrd

Well, I woke up this mornin'
And I was feelin' fine
But with my first cup of coffee
Came the last thing on my mindIt hung around uninvited
The whole day through
It didn't care that I'd been trying
To keep from missing youThat's the thing about a memory
It's got a mind of its own
It can take an old flame
And chill you to the boneJust when you think it's long gone
It'll roll back around
But that's the thing about a memory
When it comes to misery, it'll never let you downThey all didn't know that it's not welcome
It's just a fair weather friend
Who wants to be reminded
Of things that might've been?It don't matter if I'm drivin'
Or walkin' down the street
It's never far behind, it does it every time
It knocks me off my feetThat's the thing about a memory
It's got a mind of its own
It can take an old flame
And chill you to the boneJust when you think it's long gone
It'll roll back around
That's the thing about a memory
When it comes to misery, it'll never let you downYeah, that's the thing about a memory
When it comes to misery, it'll never let you down
