

Death Will Be My Bride

Brendan Perry

Woke up this morning, set off down the road
Left behind me all those years searching for a common soul
I've been looking for a thousand an' one distractions
To empty my mind of thoughts of loneliness
I've been lookin' for someone to take away my frustrations
But all I find is a sea of emptiness
Death will be my bride
Death will be my bride
Ooh, ooh
Ooh, ooh
Three hours from sundown still on the road
With those voices in my head, ringin' down the years
For the wind whispers my name
And the leaves they lend a helping hand
If I don't reach you by this time tomorrow
I'll be stone cold dead in the ground
Death will be my bride
Death will be my bride

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>