

Crash and Burn

Lucky 7

You say life has cut you out.
In a word complicated.
But this time, you find out.
That it all overated.
And you do everything, to change your life.
No leaf left unturned.
And they do anything to make you crash and burn.
It all you need and all that you ever know.
It makes your heart bleed and leaves you wanting more.
It all you need, it all you ever know.
In your mind, you picture this.
You are not alone, you are back with a friend.
You give your life, for what you missed.
Just to know what it feels like to breathe again.
And you do everything, to change your life.
No leaf left unturned.
And they do anything to make you crash and burn.
It all you need and all that you ever know.
It makes your heart bleed and leaves you wanting more.
It all you need, it all you ever know.
