Prolog:
This is the voice of the wild planet
Be prepared to leave your world behind
Soon we're coming to take you with us
Don't be afraid of something you do not understand
Everything is organised perfectly
We guarantee freedom, peace and health for all eternity(unreleased:) we fulfill all your hopes and dreams
Because only we have the power
To provide unlimited happiness
In our community you'll find understanding, love and joy
And your struggle for survival will be overYou don't need to worry about the future anymore(unreleased:) because there are no religious wars
We all believe in the principles of humanityYou are not the first human being
We brought to the wild planet
And you won't be the last
Because it's our pleasure to make you people feel good
Just relax and leave the rest to us
See you soonWild, wild planet - here we come!
I hear voices calling me wherever I go
Is it in my fantasy I gotta make sure
Persecution mania is killing my brain
Everytime I think they're gone, they call me againWon't be long - we will come - with our song - soon we'll comeYou don't need a ticket, your flight is free
