

Love Blown Down

Elbow

Someone's staking out my house
So don't be sitting drunk
Outside my window'cause when your love is love blown down
You must live with yourselfSomeone's opening my mail
So don't be sending us it through the postSomeone's is tapping my phone you know?
So stop your crank calls telling me you love meWhen your love is love blown down
You must live with yourself'cause when your love is love blown down
You must sleep so your head can escape your heart
