

Volcano

Born Cages

The electric sun was shining through
He said, "babe it's only me and you"
But then her ashes covered cities whole
Rain like tears, it swallowed her
Her mind, it filled with damaged girls
She fell in love with all the darkness in the world
She's a volcano in the rain
She wants to erupt on me again
There's miles of jealousy and misery between us
But I don't know if I can take Another eruption before I break
'Cause I've got survivor's guilt
And I wanna warn the world
