Only Hope

Secondhand Serenade

my beating heart is getting tired tonight it feels like it's on fire and I'm driving all alone my hand is on my phone waiting for you to call me please pick up the phone and call me cause I'm lonely and my mind is aching can't you see I'm for the taking you are my only hope
but youre so far
and you are my only hope
so come back home
from where you are
I see your face on everyone like the constant beating of the sun right on my skin
I'm suffering without you I'm tired i reach for my stereo it's starting to sound real close to home and I cant bear
to sleep here without you

just come back home
sometimes I feel like I was mistaken you must be an angel sit down and teach me what life was all about I see myself changing no longer a stranger
you gave me a reason to never die
