Godman

Young Widows

He said, "Godman, don't be so cruel."
He wanted time
They needed time
He'll give them afterlife
They needed pain
He knew pain
He wanted one to stay
Chance you'll stay
He said, "Godman, don't be so cruel."
He wanted love
They needed love
He'll give them family
They needed faith
He knew faith
He'll give them family
Reaching through the sky, both hands out
Lost times, been too long, delusional fears
He said, "Godman, don't be so cruel."
Lost times, been too long, delusional fears
Fooled by the words of an angel
As the stone cracks away
He could learn to love one
If you could learn to stay
Easily make adjustments
To set his devils free
This moment, a statue, stable, crumbling
Chance you'll stay
He would make adjustments
With heaven guaranteed
One could leave
One can leave
One will leave
