

Claire's Horrors

London After Midnight

Spirits seem to drift up through a darkened sky drifting through dead branches in the night while in the moonlight we go down upon our knees entwined together only we can see their beauty Beneath the stars a bell begins to toll for reasons which we really shouldn't know so take a walk with me down to the cemetery wrap me in darkness, Claire make love to me I am thunder
I am rain
I am pleasure
I am pain
Only in darkness can there be light tell me angel have you prayed tonight?
In the dark I know you all so well beauty from Heaven wrapped 'round souls from Hell so take a drink from me my sacrifice to thee damned fallen angels, always blessed with me.
