

Legendary Child

Aerosmith

Legendary Child

I'll tell you what I'm talking about (uh)
Makin' love at seventeen, yeah we had the luck
But we traded dem toys for other joys
Yeah we didn't give a (whoa-oa-oa-whoa)
I took a chance at the high school dance
Never knowing wrong from right
And that same show 40 years ago
Being televised tonight
Coz getting from inside my head to the Taj Mahal
I went from never having none to wanna have it all
I wanna keep that dream alive
And eat that honey from the hive
What's all the noise and all the clamor
No Surprise, you know I am a
Legendary Child
I think a what I'm tryin' to say
Is
Sticks and stones'll break your bones
At least they'll rearrange
I'll drop a dime, and every time

I get myself a nickel's change
They say we don't know Jack
At The Plant we proved them wrong
We traded in our soul tonight and sold them for a song
And if Satan had a lady friend her name was Mary Jane
I never wondered why she tried to drive us quite insane
And how we got that golden fleece
From token' on that pipe of peace
But yea as far as I can see
There is a God coz I got me a
Legendary Child
Legendary Child
Legendary Child
Legendary Child
Legendary Child
Whoa, whoa

Whoa, whoa
Legen-whoa, whoa
Whoa, whoa
Legendary Child (whoa) (whoa) (whoa) (whoa)
Legendary (whoa) (whoa) (whoa) (oh)

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>