Funny Face

Andre Merritt

It must have been your funny face
It must have been your laugh
Must have been your paper chase
That wasn't quite enoughMust have been your tiny dance
That made me laugh out loud
Must have been your angel dust
That put me on your cloudYou're the reason why, yeah
You're the reason, IIt must have been your love, oh
It must have been your love, I said
It must have been your love in a little bit
It must have been your loveIt must have been your poppy eyes
That made me step outside
Must have been the sight of tears
That let me know, I criedIt must have been your bunny shake
It must have been your love
A lot of girls won't come around
They treat me like a wolfIt must have been your love
It must have been your love, I said
It must have been your love, I gotta get that
It must have been your loveYou're my angel, baby
You're my darling, you're my star
Lo, Lo, Lo, Lolita, let her see me deep in loveYou're the reason why, yeah
You're the reason, IIt must have been your love
It must have been your love, now
It must have been your love, oh no, no, I
It must have been your loveYou're my angel, baby
You're my darling, you're my star
Lo, Lo, Lo, Lolita, let her see me deep in loveLopsided eyes and a crooked frown
Make more of life just settle down
Every single little princess needs a crown
Make more of life just settle downIt must have been your love
It must have been your love
It must have been your love
It must have been your love
