

I'm Doing Fine

Dan Hill

I came across this letter I wrote to you after our last fight
We were down in Jamaica
To say the least, things hadn't worked out right And I guess we just lost contact
Somewhere down the line
I just wanted you to know that I'm doing fine Remember that old diner?
We used to meet there after your night class
I told you things I'd never told no one You just smiled at me and said
"You can't live in the past"
I just wanted you to know I'm doing fine when I don't think of you
Girl, I hope you're all right
(Cause I'm doing fine) I'm doing fine when I don't close my eyes
See your face one more time
I'm doing fine I was never good at writing letters
Don't want to complicate your life
Besides, I don't even know where you live now Though I found your number
Nearly dialed it once or twice
I hear you married some rich architect Congratulations
I'm happy for you most of the time
I just wanted you to know I'm doing fine when I don't think of you
Girl, I hope you're all right
(Cause I'm doing fine) I'm doing fine when I don't close my eyes
See your face one more time
I'm doing fine Don't worry about me
I just hope you're all right I came across this letter I wrote to you after our last fight
You should know I'm doing fine
