Waiting for Something

Sense Field

The feeling begins, I never ever want it to end
So, I try getting high, how I kept trying to fly
Trying to make it again, recreate it with friendsSo, I search for this thing this world could never bring
It's the pain and the sting, takes it's toll on my soul
Stealing the feeling I knowWaiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm alive
Waiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm aliveYou'll know where to start
Piece together the hearts that were thrown away broken
Run over and stolenWe could find a way, find a way
We could find a way, find a way
Find a way, find a way, find a wayWaiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm alive
Waiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm aliveFind a way, find a wayYou'll know where to start
Together with hearts, thrown away broken
Run over and stolen, thrown away brokenWaiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm alive
Waiting for something to open my eyes
I wait for the feeling to know I'm alive
Find a way, find a way

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/