

So Near and Yet So Far

Fred Astaire

I so often dream
We might make a team
But so wild a scheme
I must banish
For each time I start
To open my heart
You vanishWe might find some isle
Where lotuses smile
And our time beguile
Going native
But how can we go
Unless you are co-
OperativeMy dear, I've a feeling you are
So near and yet so far
You appear like a radiant star
First so near, then again so farI just start getting you keen
On clinches galore with me
When fate steps in on the scene
And mops up the floor with me
No wonder I'm a bit under par
For you're so near and yet so far
