

A Little More

Skillet

Love is all around you now, so take a hold
Hidden in our words it sometimes ain't enough
Don't suffocate day after day, it's building up
'Cause when you're feeling weak, you know I'm strong enough Just one more day, one more day Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Oh, let the world come crashing down
Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Love can take a little, love can give a little more Love is indestructible, so take a hold
Sometimes hard to find a reason good enough
I'll stand beside you never leave, through it all
And faith will bring a way to the impossible Just one more day, one more day Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Oh, let the world come crashing down
Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Love can take a little, love can give a little more You can find me and you can find me
You can find me anywhere
Take a look over you shoulder
I'll be standing there, standing there Love is all around you now, so take a hold
And faith will bring a way to the impossible Just one more day, one more day
(You can find me, you can find me, you can find me anywhere)
Just one more day, one more day
(You can find me, you can find me, you can find me anywhere) Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Oh, let the world come crashing down
Oh, let the world crash love can take it
Love can take a little, love can take a little Love can take a little, love can give a little more A little more
Take a little more
Take a little more
Love can take it
A little more
