Run For Cover

Redneck Souljers

I can see you from my tree stand so if you wanna stay a free man You better run for cover
Run for cover I got some bros here behind them buck blinds
That got your ass spotted through the front side
You better run for cover
Run for cover
That bastard hop out the passenger side of the Cadillac in all black like I'm Dracula Fifth of Jack tilt it back to the maximum I got a dip fully packed til I'm strapped with guns
You already knowing what's up like you were sleeping we was creeping we've been blowing shit up some type of jar got the heart and we're soldiering up cause with this music shit we're rapping we've been folding em up
Cause them boys got sideways I'm getting gifted sitting in the dark with it in park in their driveway 5 minutes from the highway
So if they get it twisted I'm gonna jet of quick like (I'm by day?) I say firewater mind frame cleaner than a prototype stripped to the wire frame
Sneak and duck and pull it over need a tire change
Rope a couple cause we're eating rappers up just like it's child's play I can see you from my tree stand so if you wanna stay a free man You better run for cover
Run for cover
I got some bros here behind them buck blinds
That got your ass spotted through the front side
You better run for cover
Run for cover creeping through thinking shotgun in my hand entering in my business better get his ass up off this land man I know these words like the back of my palm you don't want to be the subject of this song cause it ain't going to be wrong by the bank of the palm right about the 22 from the swamp and you can't see him behind the maple tree camouflage and the Gayle suits with optic laser beams watch out where you stepping cause we got some crazy things swinging logs and ankle nooses trampolines made of leaves the swaying breeze now got the vagrant saying please pray and plead and make them leave now
Jesus lead me to safety can't breathe easy I've been running for hours there ain't no telling how many still see me he took his last breath and look back over his shoulders seen two monsters leading up the pack and I'm on the wrong land and his knees hit the ground but he didn't turn around I can see you from my tree stand so if you wanna stay a free man
Run for cover
I got some bros here behind them buck blinds
That got your ass spotted through the front side
You better run for cover
Run for cover
