Going Home

Cris Cab

I'm going home There I am there in my bedroom I'm safe and snug and snoring And so glad to be thereI'm going home None of this ever happened But God, I really did it Still nothing has changedI'm going home, I'm going home To my own room, to all the mess To all the dirty laundryIt looks so good, I don't care I'm just so glad to be back Home sweet homeI wonder if anyone missed me Or have I been gone so long They thought that I diedHow many said I wonder what happened to Alice How many shrugged or laughed How many cried But I don't give a damn'Cuz I'm going home I'm going home To my own room, to all the mess To all the dirty laundryIt looks so good I don't care I'm just so glad to be back Home sweet homeI'm going home Nothing can stop me, now I'm going home Nothing can stop me, nowI'm going home Nothing can stop me, now I'm going home Nothing can stop me, nowI'm going home Nothing can stop me, now I'm going home Nothing can stop me, now Stop me, now
