The Arrow

Josh Garrels

An arrow is stuck between my ribs
And I pray to God, Donâ€™t let it end like this
I fought like a man with will to live
But I was betrayed by the man within
How on earth did it all go down like this?
Iâ€™ve got no words to make sense of it
My shield, my fight for righteousness
Could not protect me from myself
Iâ€™m looking for the higher power
To be my mighty tower
Save me from myself, Oh yeah
But Iâ€™m-a fall seven more times
And it ainâ€™t nobodyâ€™s fault except mine
Thereâ€™s only one way out
Please, Lord, forgive me
Iâ€™m down on my bended knees
And I need your love
Mercy is your medicine
Help me turn around again
To You, my friend
How long did I fool myself
Believing I, I didnâ€™t need nobodyâ€™s help
A fool trusts in his power and his wealth
Until heâ€™s brought down low
Unto a shadow of himself
The arrow was sent to intervene
It pierced my bones and shook me from my dream
Lord You know exactly what I need
Wounds from a friend, severe mercy
Iâ€™m looking for the higher power
To be my mighty tower
Save me from myself, Oh yeah
But Iâ€™m-a fall seven more times
And it ainâ€™t nobodyâ€™s fault except mine
Thereâ€™s only one way out
Please, Lord, forgive me
Iâ€™m down on my bended knees
And I need your love
Mercy is your medicine

Help me turn around again
To You, my friend
