Deceit

AreknamÃ©s

For many years I put my trust in you
Perceiving the vows I took that were true
Only to learn all had been lost to youTo search for meanings not truly there
Answers to questions only bring despair
Distractions down the path of our livesUnforgivingWas there a point to nine years we had Selfish thoughts leave you undesireable
Part of me was severed that very dayIn the wake of confusion I search, looking
For the answers to questions only reveal
