Try

Jason Isbell

You can't make a woman sleep alone
You can't make a woman sleep alone
You can't give her loving on the phone
You can't make her stay her ass at homeBut you try, don't you? You try, don't you?
Just wanna die, don't you, when she runs?You can't tell her nothing she don't know
You can't tell her nothing she don't know
She'll chop down every living thing you grow
But you can't take her with you when you goBut you try, don't you? You try, don't you?
Just wanna die, don't you, when she runs?Take a year and go back home
Where the wind comes sweeping through the plains
You ain't seen her in a while
But she loves you just the sameYou can't stop that ringing in your ear
You can't stop that ringing in your ear
And you can't make the highway disappear
You can't make her love you out of fearBut you try, don't you? You try, don't you?
Just wanna die, don't you, when she runs?Take a year and go back home
Where the wind comes sweeping through the plains
You ain't seen her in a while
But she loves you just the same
