Let the Earth Talk

Last Heart Attack

It's time for him to tell you everything
He can't keep words inside of him!
It started from a rose two years ago
Did you expect all of this?And I can see your eyes in the nocturnal sky
Comparing you to all the stars that shine!
And now his chest explodes, he starts to feel the flames here burning all aroundWhy should not all the grass talk?
Why is the sun holding you?
You are a piece of his world
So please don't leave him alone!I've got no ways to show you what I feel
When you crouch yourself in my arms!
There's the opportunity for me to sing it
So take place and open your ears!And I can see your eyes in the nocturnal sky
Comparing you to all the stars that shine
And now my chest explodes, I start to feel the flames here burning all aroundWhy should not all the grass talk?
Why is the sun holding you?
Are you a piece of this world?
So please don't leave me alone!Don't you realize
You use your eyes
To make the world
Shine like the moon!
