The Quiet

Clearshot

I'll stand on my own two feet
Against you, girl
I just can't walk away
I said, I can't take it that easy
Wanna break you down tonight
Don't wanna waste another day
And it's not over just yet
Give me this one last fighting chance
To crash the wall, I'll get to you
You are a war worth dying for tonight
Give me this one last fighting chance
To be the kid who caved you in
It'd be so easy to lose myself to you
Quiet I will be
So sure, calling your bluff
I think you lost your will to fight
And you know
I'll storm through your castles doors
'Cause you know that I'm good for you
And you're scared of what you'll find
A love you won't regret
Give me this one last fighting chance
To crash the wall, I'll get to you
You are a war worth dying for tonight
Give me this one last fighting chance
To be the kid who caved you in
It'd be so easy to lose myself to you
So open up your friendly fire
And let me be the kill you're missing
Don't wanna see you, close your eyes
Until this is over
Give me this one last fighting chance
To crash the wall, I'll get to you
You are a war worth dying for tonight
Give me this one last fighting chance
To be the kid who caved you in
It'd be so easy to lose myself to you
