

I Knew Your Name

Matt Walters

Contrary,
To belief,
I was weak when I looked your way.

On the perfect night,
In the moment in time,
You stole me away.

In the crowded room,
I looked at you,
But there was no light to bathe you in.

I'm sure there was moonlight,
That hued of the softest white,
But it lit the girl in front of you.

I knew your name before I met you,
I knew your name before I met you.

So she had that dress on,
She danced like we'd get along,
And she mouthed the words of songs she didn't know.

They all gathered around.
Took care as gods profound (?),
And forgot that all that mystery was in you.

I knew your name before I met you,
I knew your name before I met you.

Ohh...
Ohh...
Ohh...

I don't care about the chains,
It's a meaningless embrace,
Of what you love can't let you go.

I know it's a head start,
To assure a broken heart,

At least I know, that there's some mystery in you.

I knew your name before I met you,
I knew your name before I met you.
I knew your name before I met you,
I knew your name before I met you.
