I think it's time to bust somethin' sleazy, but cool and easy

(Is this the right one) yeah, this is for the hood

Better keep it greasy

Better yet on a smooth tip I don't want to sweat

I want my slimmie to get with this

Move your head and shoulders from side to side

Take your back foot, and then you let it slide

Yo, in a fade motion, lots of attitude, coast to coast

Then you're floatin' homeboys boastin',

You made his skeeze freeze

You've been chosen, P

Who turn the mutha out? that's what I'm sayin' (man, NPG, man, funk that!)Tony, u were excellent
What you need is a manager
For what(I can make you) moneyminders are like parasites

They pose as wheelers and dealers for your rights
And most companies say that you need 'em
(Not me) but I kick back, observed, and watched them bleed 'em
(I'm honest) artists young and old
I can bring you to the top (where'd this unwritten law come from anyway?)
That years after the contract u should still be gettin' paid?
Boy, I'd go broke and hit the skids
Before I take care of a rich sucker's kids
My contract (hell, a contract ain't no pension plan)
My contract (years after this, my kids are still gonna make the grands)
Tony, you (and you laughed at my brother, Little Richard) when he says u ain't gave him nothin'
Let's leave him out of this (hell, that ain't no joke)
His songs are still sellin', that man could die broke
So fellow artists, push for yours
You need me (and watch for Mr. Moneyminder as we settle the score)
Tony (oh)
