

Give It Time ((Remastered))

Eric Lindell

Yes, I know it's a drag, it's a doggone shame
I've danced the same dance, felt the same pain
I've heard the same thing
And I've done the same thing as you Yeah, you best believe me it's true
I've worn the same shoes
Walked the same walk at least a time or two
I've heard the same things, done the same things as you Give it time, time that we're livin'
It's easy to give in but it won't do no good
Give it time, things will get better
A change in the weather, it just might do you good And believe at times finally lyin'
And all the good things I've had in mind
Misread the same signs
Ran the same line as you And these holes in the soles of my worn out shoes
Have walked a million miles, sang the blues
I don't need no other news
I'm done paid up in full just like you Give it time, time that we're livin'
It's easy to give in but it won't do no good
Give it time, things will get better
A change in the weather, it just might do you good Give it time, time that we're livin'
It's easy to give in but it won't do no good
Give it time and things will get better
A change in the weather, it just might do you good You best believe me it's true, I've worn the same shoes
Walked the same walk at least a time or two
Heard the same things
And I've done the same things as you Yeah, I know it's a drag, it's a doggone insane
I've danced the same dance, felt the same pain
I've heard the same thing and
I've done the same thing as you Give it time and things will get better
A change in the weather, it just might do you good Give it time, time that we're livin'
It's easy to give it but it won't do no good
Give it time, things will get better
A change in the weather, it just might do you good Give it time, time that we're livin'
It's easy to give it but it won't do no good
