

Country Western Star

Bleach

I wish that I was Floyd Cramer, pound out a country song

A cowboy, his keyboard, a country western song

That's not where I belong, yeah it's not where I belong

Just a sad, a sad song, it would be so wrongI think the singin' is great, the melody is in place but I can't play guitar

And be a country star, I could never be a country star

I could never be a country star and leave without a traceYou dreamed you met Merle Haggard, a country superstar

You shared the stage at Farm Aid, you dreamed of goin' far

Is that where you belong? Ask God where you belong

'Cause in the end what will they say, you just sang country songs?I think the singin' is great, the melody is in place but I can't play guitar

And be a country star, I could never be a country star

I could never be a country star and leave without a traceI think the singin' is great, the melody is in place but I can't play guitar

And be a country star, I could never be a country star

I could never be a country star and leave without a traceI think the singin' is great, the melody is in place but I
can't play guitar

And be a country star, I could never be a country star

I could never be a country star, I could never be a country star

And leave without a trace

Songwriters

Samuel Wade Barnhart; Matthew Errol Gingerich; Lee Todd Kirby; David Joseph Baysinger; Bradley Stephen

Ford

Published by

SONGS ON THE FOREFRONT

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>