

Escaping Fate

Distant Sun

I've played every hand I can, given everything I could did my best to make a plan but I failed I've been down every road I know but every street light flickers on and off and leaves me in the dark holding you and singing Oh love, oh love, how is life to blame?
Oh love, oh love, I hear it in your name Singing oh love, oh love, how is life to blame when there's just no escaping fate? There's a war inside my head, there's a fire in my heart
I did everything you said but I still failed I confided in the sentiment and lost my sense of reason in the whirlwind of attraction that wreaked havoc and destroyed me Oh love, oh love, how is life to blame?
Oh love, oh love, I hear it in your name Singing oh love, oh love, how is life to blame when there's just no escaping fate? Oh love, oh love, how is life to blame?
Oh love, oh love, I hear it in your name
Oh love, oh love, how is life to blame when there's just no escaping fate? Oh there's just no escaping fate
No there's just no escaping fate
