Forever

Painted Palms

i've been watching the days bleed together there are so many things i don't remember feeling like i just can't hang on to myself oh my head feels like the weatheri know sometimes you fall deep in your head wondering what you could be thinking about myself too much i can see that i don't know what to bei've been getting lost on my own time feels like i could do this forever sitting in a field of flowers all alone now it's waking up all aroundi know that sometimes you fall deep in your head
i don't know what to be
