

Coast To Coast

Alan Parker/Alan Hawkshaw

                  Last stop for a resolution
                  End of the line, is it confusion?
                  So go, go see whats there for you
                  Nothing new, nothing new for you to use
                  I've got no new act to amuse you
                  I've got no desire to use you, you know
                      But anything that I could do
                      Would never be good enough for you
                      If you can't help it then just leave it alone
                      Leave it alone, yeah, just forget it
                      It's really easy, I believe I'll forget it too
                      Still you're keepin' me around
                      'Til I finally drag us both down
                      Pullin' feathers out your hat
                      Yes I believe that's where it's at
                      You belong, taggin' along
                      And I belong in the zoo
                      So I wait for confirmation
                      That you're never gonna use your starting gun
                      Unless it's me it sounds like bein' in
                      Just wasn't that much fun
                      Anything that I could do
                      Would never be good enough for you
                      If you can't help it then just leave it alone
                      Leave it alone, yeah, just forget it
                      It's really easy, I'll just forget it too
                      Coast to coast, coast to coast
                      I'll do what I can, so you can be what you do
                      Coast to coast, coast to coast
                      I'll do everything I can, so you can be what you do
                      Coast to coast, coast to coast
                      Circuit rider comes every fifth Sunday
                      Oh my Lord, I fell asleep one day
                      Anything that I could do?
                      Is there anything that I could do
                      That someone doesn't do for you?
                      That someone didn't do for you
                      That I haven't already done for you
                      That's right
