Angina

Tristania

Through scornful declarence and luminous eyes
The shadows unveil with the glorious night
Trespassing the sunset like thou hast before
Entreating the daylight to rage nevermoreAngina striking Elysium, a frail remembrance
Glorificates the night side, ascendance veiled
Underneath thy funereal skies[Foreign Content]The winds they may haunt me in bloodredest skies
The moon may brewed the strangest of light
The clasp of indifference, the conquering tide
The sweeping of daylight, my vigor's declineAngina striking Elysium, a frail remembrance
Glorificates the night side, ascendance veiled
Underneath thy funereal skies[Foreign Content]Thy Carrion Kind
Angina strikes Elysium, a frail remembrance
The Carrion Kind, yeahMy Carrion Kind
Angina strikes Elysium, a frail remembrance
The Carrion Kind, yeahThe Carrion Kind
My Carrion Kind
