Christmastime

Aimee Mann

It's Christmas again, December is here, hasn't it been a wonderful year?
But all the plans you're making and all the time you're taking
Greet the next one with good cheer won't you dear?
As you ring the chime just because it's Christmastime
And on the tree all the ornaments glow
Tinsel will cover where the branches don't grow
There's lights on all the houses
Spouses with their spouses, children playing in the snow
One in the swing and one upon the horse
Keeping on tracks another matter of course
That's the great divisor you are now the wiser
Maybe just a bit less so touch and go
'Til you stop on a dime all alone at Christmastime
It's Christmas again, December is here
What did you wish for? What did you fear?
Look at your behavior looking for a Saviour
Underneath the mistletoe you should know that
It is less a crime to be all alone at Christmastime
Christmastime
Christmastime
Christmastime
