

The Sword

The Championship

This sword of steel that I hold in my hand
Ore of this mountain. A sword of his land
Made for the king when the elders were young
To guard us and to guide us in an age since long gone
A sword to protect the peace in troubled times
A sword made to battle and to take a life
This sword is a backbone of the life that I know
Here among mountains and snow
This sword will be one with me. Body and soul
All of me will deliver each blow
Sting on my back. Oh, its power I feel
I can hardly wait to try its steel
A sword to protect the peace in troubled times
A sword made to battle and to take a life
This sword is a backbone of the life that I know
Here among mountains and snow
Behold its sharp beauty. Just look at its shine
This sword was forged in fire and ice
This sword is a backbone of the life that I know
Here among mountains and snow
Now I am ready
To let this old sword sing again
