

The Fall and the Rise

Sum 41

Hanging by a thread now, my head's down, not feeling like myself now

The voices inside my head are getting too loud

(Screaming louder than a thousand drums)

I keep counting the days and I can't stop now

And I won't break down, I'm too proud

Let's give them shit to talk about

The pressure, the weight of the world won't keep me down

(This time I'm taking back what's mine)

It's been a long time coming and I just won't stopGo!

Go ahead then try to break me

Like a rat in a race until the dawn

Go ahead then make them pay

It's time to take back the place where I belongSo, I'm done with all the chasing, I'm giving up on wasting

All my time with you, now I'm looking for salvation

I'm done with all the fake shit, getting hard to fake it

'Cause I can't take it anymore so give me something sacred

I played the part of the villain but no apologies given

I came right back to the start, and it's about time for living

I've been to hell and back still, I've paid the devil his bills

And now I'm coming back stronger, and I'm shooting just to killGo ahead then try to break me

Like a rat in a race until the dawn

Go ahead then make them pay

It's time to take back the place where I belong

The place where I belong

The place where I belongThe place where I belong

And fade into the stars

The race until the dawn

And I just wanna take my place

The place where I belong

And fade into the stars

The race until the dawn

And I just wanna take my place

The place where I belong (Won't stop, go)Go ahead then try to break me

Like a rat in a race until the dawn

Go ahead then make them pay

It's time to take back the place where I belong

Go ahead then try to break me

Like a rat in a race until the dawn

Go ahead then make them pay

It's time to take back the place where I belong

The place where I belong

The place where I belong
