

Time Will Find the Answer

John Norum

Into the shadows of the night
They fought the war that would never die
Now the sun never shines
Can't find the key that's lost in time
And the wind calls your name for you only
But she would never return
Ans I long to hear your voice
As I watch the endless fire burn
Now the kings and queens of long ago
Could never have forseen
Will they rise and fall
Only time will tell
Twisted on battleground so green
nbsp;
Time will find the answer
Time will find you
Walking through the fields
Into the storm where the soldiers lie
Black skies are gathering around
Where men fought and they lost
As they fall silent to the ground
Only time it will heal
Stop your crying
I'll so on be on my way
And I can hear your voice
Through the trees in the morning light
Now the autumn leaves are falling
As the winter closes in
Through the morning mist
Only walk the brave
They only fight to win
Now the autumn leaves are falling
As winter closes in
Will they rise or fall
Only time will tell
They only fight to win
