My Girl Tonight

Jon McLaughlin

I might be stupid to think I could buy you dinner when some better man should but here goes my manhood so we order food I can't afford you look so perfect maybe I should talk more I could probably talk more then I kiss you for the first time your lips fit between mine the taste fills my mind with the rest of our lives
you are my girl tonight I follow blindly where you go you know the me that no one else on earth knows and there goes my ego we cannot sleep in separate beds so I ask the question and it hasn't left my mouth yet and I hear you say yes
then I kiss you for the first time as husband and as wife
the taste fills my mind
with the rest of our lives
you are my girl tonight
some love is real and some is fake I used to think my heart just healed to break that was before our first date it's hard to say what true love is all I know my dear is we define it and in me you'll always find it so I kiss you all the time cause your lips fit between mine the taste fills my mind with the rest of our lives
you are my girl tonight
you are my girl tonight

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/