Song for Angels

Crimson Glory

Innocence is fragile like the wind
Cold hearts can tear it down
It's hard to find some sanctuaryI know your feel's just like the world
Is on your shoulders
And you won't survive if it gets any colderAngels - wait for tomorrow
Before you smile you gotta cry sometimes
Angels - a new day will followEven angels need to learn how to flyListen close to the child inside you
Beggin' to be set free
You've lost your way
And your heart is needing shelterI know you feel the walls are Closing all around
Hold on, it won't be long
Before you break 'em downAngels - wait for tomorrow
Before you smile you gotta cry sometimes
Angels - a new day will followEven angels need to learn how to flyBelieve in all your dreams
And reach for the skySo hard all alone
Fightin' thru the pain
Some day you'll stand up
Strong and unafraid
And then you'll see the sun
Right behid the rain
Spread your wingsAngels - wait for tomorrow
Before you smile you gotta cry sometimes
Angels - a new day will follow
Even angels need to learn how to flyAngels - wait for tomorrow
Before you smile you gotta cry sometimes
Angels - a new day will follow
Even angels need to learn how to flyAngels - angels
Angels - angels
Angels - angels
Angels - angelsEven angels need to learn how to fly
