Dressed In Black

Balkans

Dressed in black
With a rose in my hand
I now understand
That I kept you
For as long as I could
It's time to let go
I stared
Into your watery eyes
As you wandered into the light
I watched
Though my eyelids were closed
As my memory captured the sight
I'm breathing
Though a part of me died
It doesn't seem right

I'm standing
As life lingers on
It's time to move on
I stared
Into your watery eyes
As you wandered into the light
I watched
Though my eyelids were closed
As my memory captured the sight
One day
With a rose in my hand
I'll see you again
