

Better On The Other Side

The Game

i remember the first time i seen you moonwalk i believed i could do anything you made the word dance you made the music come to life couse: this the type of song that make the angels cry i look up in the sky and i wonder why? why you have to go, go

i know its better on the other side.
"you were the greatest"
you were chosen from the start never gunna let yhu go.

who's michael jackson
your michael jackson.
i'm michael jackson.
we all michael jackson.

i guess what im asking is everybody bow their head for a legend dont breathe for a second.
now let the air out, grab the hand of someone you care about. so you cn hear my message, my confession someone tell usher, i seen the moonwalk, i guess the young thriller touched him

like he touched me, like he touched you so carry on his legacy, something i must do, and i trust you lighting candles, concrete visual me and my brothers listen top jackson 5 in the living room.

first thing i did when when i heard i called puff coz him and mike tried to stop the beef between us. who was us? me and fifty. that beef was dead, him and mike jackson gunna take us to the ledge

course:

as im pouring out this liqior candles start to flicker.
when i list my airones, MJ was my nigga Not the one that play ball, the one with the hollywood star.

and since im a hollyWood star im gunna tell you my story

Never had a family that close.never see BarryGordy walking through interscope just like me they always had mike in a scope no matter wat you say .Im gunna love him and hes still dope let me take you back to 85when i was in a zone,dancing for my momma thriller jacket with all the zippers on. now im doing 90 about to crash it in this aston. listening to outcast ,im sorry Mrs.jackson anything i cn ever do to better you yor son was our kings so we wont corretta you. im writting this letter to all the jackosn kids,we all jackson kids,time to let us through

course:

people can say what they wana say about you but were gunna remember the mircales that you shown too us do your music

do your dance

do your philathropy

you were the one that made us all realize

That we are the world

your were the one who showed us how to moonwalk

you gave us the beat

you gave us the rythm

you gave us the soul

to us your legacy lives on

we can't stop now

we wont stop now

"MICHAEL JACKSON"

course:

1958-2009
