

One Of Us

I Was A King

It was you
I heard you saying you like it here
But the words came out all wrong
Under the open window
I was listening fromAnd now the grass keeps growing long
The curtains are drawn
And we're both stubborn and aloneYou better wish that one of us is wrong
You better wish that one of us is wrong
'Cus now everyone is right
And it's quiet in our homeYou better wish that one of us is wrongIt was you
I heard you say that I don't exist
And I bit my lip and cried
But there's a darkness growing deep inside my mindThey're saying that we should sort it out
That I am the one
You should step aside
And change overnightBut what the hell do they know?They better wish that one of us is wrongThey better wish that one of us is wrong
They better wish that one of us is wrong
But now everyone is right
And it's quiet in our homeThey better wish that one of us is wrongThey better wish that one of us is wrong (x
4)They don't stop
I don't move
But I don't complain at allThey better wish that one of us is wrong
