What You Do to Me

Straight Line Stitch

Please heal me, feel me, kill me,
It's not easy.
Never run from who you are,
There's no one that can run that far.
Better stick around and hold your ground,
Under my bleeding heart.
So hang on, won't be long.
Is this what life is?
Something's gone wrong.

These days I cannot cope at all.
I need some kinda mircale to shake me from this confusion.
It's what you do to me.
My heart lies bleeding in your hands.
Time stops and turns around again.
It doesn't matter what you say,
It's what you do to me.

You hurt me, desert me, divert me,
It's not easy.
Never knew that loosing you could be so hard,
But now I'm scarred.
And every time I dream,
I start to scream under the falling stars.
So hang on, won't be long.
Is this what life is?
Something's gone wrong.

These days I cannot cope at all.
I need some kinda mircale to shake me from this confusion.
It's what you do to me.
My heart lies bleeding in your hands.
Time stops and turns around again.
It doesn't matter what you say,
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.

Pick up the pieces all around.
Always wondered why we fight.

Never even made a sound,
Never thought I'd see the light.
And I'm not falling,
I'd rather stand alone.

These days I cannot cope at all.
I need some kinda mircale to shake me from this confusion.
It's what you do to me.
My heart lies bleeding in your hands.
Time stops and turns around again.
It doesn't matter what you say,
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.
It doesn't matter what you say,
It's what you do to me.

These days I cannot cope at all.
I need some kinda mircale to shake me from this confusion.
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.
It's what you do to me.
