You Won't Be Lonely

Stryper

Won't you open up your heart and let me come inside
Please let the loving start to climb
I know you may wonder why, I've come to hold you tight
I don't want you to cry tonightI will take you in my arms, sing your favorite song
And tell you of your charms, all night long
You've been hurt over again, with all my love I say
I am holding out my handYou won't be lonely anymore
You won't be lonely anymoreFor so long you've been in rain but now you're warm and dry
You've been through all the pain and now it's blue skies
You'll be happy and secure, as long as you are mine
And as long as I am yoursYou won't be lonely anymore
No, you won't be lonely anymore, noYou won't be lonely anymore, no
You won't be lonely anymore
You won't be lonely anymore
You won't be lonely anymoreSo won't you open up your hear and let me come inside
Please let the loving start to climb
I will take you in my arms and I will hold you tight
You won't be lonely tonight

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/