

Colossal

Wolfmother

I saw the colossal landscape
Of which I never was a part
It was a magical day
Of which I'd never seen before
The first time I saw colossal girl
The first time I saw colossal girl
Such glowing mountains before us
Pillars of life all fade away
Of all the things I need to say girl
All of these woods are in my way
The first time I saw colossal girl
Well, she's running to the hills again
Can you tell me if she'll ever return?
She must be mother nature's child
'Cause she's runnin' to the call of the wild
She's talkin' to the trees again
Tellin' me that she's one of them
Lookin' at the bird in the tree
Though she's never gonna notice me, no
Oh is my love a confession
Will I just put it back today?
If I had a love to give you
Would you still throw it all away?
The first time I saw colossal girl
The first time I saw colossal girl
Well, she's running to the hills again
Can you tell me if she'll ever return?
'She must be mother nature's child
Cause she's runnin' to the call of the wild
She's talkin' to the trees again
Tellin' me that she's one of them
Lookin' at the bird in the tree
Though she's never gonna notice me
Can you remember the first time we met
Living together in colossal times
Some things are given with no reason why
Living together in colossal times
I'm just a gypsy with wondering eyes
I'll tell you secrets that send you to sleep
All I can give you is all of my love
These are the things I can give you to keep, oh
I'm just a gypsy with wondering eyes
I'll tell you secrets that send you to sleep
All I can give you is all of my love
And these are the things I can give you to keep
